WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. 1844. arly History of the City of Washington-Pope, Rome and Tiber-The Capitol-Washington's Statue-Jefferson's Statue-General Post Office-Its Architect-National Institute-Patent Office,

The present site of this city originally belonged to Francis Pope, a Catholic of decided faith, who in 1663 came into its possession, when he entitled the tract "Rome," and the small stream running through its centre, the river "Tiber," in imitation I suppose, of the Pope's city. The following is the earliest grant on record, and having copied it from the original, its authenticity cannot be questioned. The manuscritt was presented to the city by R Y Brent, Esq., one of the descendants of the original owners, and is deposited in the office of Mayor Seaton. It runs thus:—

"Lavd out for Francis Pops of this Province, gentle man, a parcell of and in tharles contry, called Rome, lving on the East abod the American structure, the bounded river for breach in the length of 200 poles. It a bounded that standing at the mouth of a bay or inlet called Tiper bounding on the boards by the said lot and line drawn east for the length of 220 poles. Of this grant the government, were to have been applied towards improving the place, and grading, making and paying streets, &c. Th world look for example.

The Capitol, which is constructed of brown sand stone, the corner stone of which was laid by General Washington, requires to be newly painted.—
Pennsylvania Avenue should be paved with blocks of granite, as its macadamized dust is ruinous to the health of members, and destructive to the furniture and comfort of all who reside on its line. The capity was the nation in its present condition. The order of the health of the nation in its present condition. The order of the house, and "National Institute," should be finished and enlarged, and a "National Conservatory," for the preservation and distribution of the nacleus formed by the plants brought home by the exploring expedition, should satisfy members of Congress of the benefits of such small appropriation as is desired to carry out this object.

The capitol was never in more perfect internal condition under the hands of the present officers of the house, than at this period, and your old friend, John Foy, E-q., has so revived, renovated and regenerated his apartments, that none but Florence of the house, than at this period, and your old friend, John Foy, E-q. has so revived, renovated and regenerated his apartments, that none but Florence of the house, than at this period, and your old friend, John Foy, E-q. has so revived, renovated and regenerated his apartments, that none but Florence of the house, than at this period, and your old friend, but the rear of the capitol, which will add much to the beauty of a place, already the most beautiful in the rear of the capitol, which will add much to the beauty of a place, already the most beautiful in the rear of the capitol, which will add much to the beauty of a place, already the most beautiful in this, or any other country—the position, scenery and artificial advantages included. and artificial advantages included. These grounds contain the forest trees of every State in the Union except that strange and extraordinary one, known as "rickery," which you are aware, perhaps, is a native of the soil of America alone, and will never survive on being transplanted. J-mmy Maher, the gard-ner, has, however, a "Young Hickory" in growth that will soon show its branches in prominent position.

In growth that will soon show its branches in prominent position.

The magnificent statue of Washington, by Gree nough, is placed in the beautiful square in front of the capitol, under the cover of a board shed, that has the onlward appearance of a cow stable, and thus the light and shade of sun and sky, which the sculptor certainly intended should rest u on it, are totally screened from the view, and the sombre cast of the pine boards reflicted in their stead. The man who could burn or destroy the shed, without injuring the statue, would receive the thanks of all the lovers of art and admirers of nature's handicraft. Persico's Columbus and "nature" beauty, adorn the right predestal on the front of the capitol, and it is a wonder that a board shed has not been placed over these figures, to destroy the effect of tight and shade so necessary in the exhibition of statuary.

The colossal bronze statue of Jefferson, presented to Congress by Lieutenant Levi, of the United States Navy, has finally lound a resting place on the President's grounds, through his own independent and tolerant character, as you will remember the objection to its original reception was supposed to have emanated from sectarian hostility to Lieut. Levi, he being an Israelite. President Tyler has thus aided to remove this intolerant spirit, if it existed.

The General Post Office is one of the most beautiful and chaste edifices in the United States. It is of the Cornthian style of architecture, composed of columns and pilasters disposed upon a high rustic base, and strikes the eye at once, from its pure contrast with other public edifices in the city. It will remain a monument to its architect, Mr. Mills, who has also presented to society living models of beauty, taste and accomplishment, in the person of the wife of Col. Pendleton and her amable sister, whose mansion is the home of the stranger in this city.

The Patent Office is a splendid unfinished edifice, in the centre of the city, containing in its second story the valuable collection of on hand and ready to decommend the customers.

Members come in very slow, as we presume they are holding back in the surrounding cities, to dart in on Sunday and Monday next with a periect

As the symptoms of Stricture are analogous with those of other affections of the urinary apparatus, none but experienced Surgeous should be allowed to make the necessary semination, as those affected with enlarged prostate glands, may suffer much injury from awkward practitioners.

Nervous and Constitutional Debility.—This affection, and the train of evils resulting from a score, destructive habit to youth, inducing noctural emissions and climate imposency are radically cured by Dr. M., on pathological principles, by restoring the system to a healthy tone and renatating in original vigor. A perfect cure guaranteed, or no classys, N.B.—Dr. M. holds no communion with seedscal pretenders, who claim to be surgeous, as he is, perhaps, the only quasiafeed advertising Surgeon in the city. HAS PRONOUNCED DR. SHERMAN'S WORM LO IZENGES to be the best preparation for the destruction of worms in children that has ever been offered, and they are so pleasant to the taste that they are taken without any difficulty. They have now been in use more than five years, during which time they have become well known in every part of the land from Maine to Georgia, and from the Atlantic to the Rocky Mountains. Their administration has been attended with wonderful success, so much so that parents have now no confidence in any other medicine for the expulsion of worms. The testimognals in their favor are very numerous, and continue to pour in from all quarters of the country. How many children can be found who are suffering from worms, and are pining away for the want of a proper remedy. Even the cause of the suffering is not suspected. One box of Sherman's worm Lozenges, will remedy the evil. Tamper no longer, it willoun be too late. Be careful to procure the genuine Sharman's Worm Lozenges, and give them according to the printed directions on the box.

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Ashma and all diseases of the lungs, are relieved and curred by Dr. Shecman's celebrated Cough-Lozenges. The Rev. Darius Anthony, of the Oncida Conference, was given up by his friends. These Lozenges in a short time seatored him to health. Rev. Mr. Streeter, of Boaton, Leonard Rogers, an agod veteran of the revolution, Hon. Mr. Archer, of Virginia, and a host of wirtnesses could be produced whe have used Sherman's Cough Lozenges and affections of the stomach and bowels. They cure headach in a few moments, give immediate relief in colic, diarrhosa, or end with the collection of the Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Sea Sickness and affections of the stomach and bowels.
